

Celebrate with us!

Every day over 200 million to 500 million internet searches around the world are asking “How do I kill myself? Is there a God? What is the meaning of life? What is love? What is the point?”

Many ministries have created websites to answer these specific questions, and they are having astounding results. Hundreds of thousands of people every day are responding to Jesus. Bridgemaker.tv is seeking to be one of many effective ways for people to discover Jesus. With stories that span generations and geographies, we are specifically targeting searching people who want to view real life stories of people who have encountered Jesus. We are really pleased with the beta version that you can view at <http://www.bridgemaker.tv> We believe God will be pleased to use it to draw many to His beloved Son.

If you like what you see, we'd be thrilled for you to do three things.

1. Pray God will bring many to Jesus through Bridgemaker.tv. 2. Put a link to it on your Facebook or Twitter site. 3. Prayerfully consider giving. (Joey wanted me to really emphasize this part, as our need is great and you are generous). We will be advertising this site specifically to people who are desperate for hope. Your gift will help with our development and making this available to many nations.

We know there are many ministries worthy of your support. God is the Lord of the Harvest and He encourages us to ask Him to send forth harvesters. Bridgemaker.tv will be, we trust with God's anointing and wisdom, a harvester throughout the nations. If you'd like to partner with us in this fresh obedience, click here.

Our Beautiful International Students

Last Saturday our home was filled with gorgeous students from India, Nepal, Japan, China, Taiwan, Germany, Finland, and the America. We love these future leaders of the nations. We were sadly saying goodbye to our graduate students who are going on to internships in Stem Cell research at Scripts, UCSB, and City of Hope.

While we said goodbye we were also saying "Hello!" to some lovely students from Cal Lutheran, and CSUCI, many who are here just for the semester from Germany. Wonder what we do? We eat, love, and play ridiculous games. In a few weeks we'll be taking them to Disneyland, a Dodger Game, and hopefully giving them smile wrinkles. We want God to bless each of these students deeply and give them wonderful gifts to give the world.

Mama Shekinah is being shown multiple times on television in Jakarta Indonesia, and will be shown on German television in October. Please continue to pray God uses Hedi's story to touch nations.

Prayerfully consider joining us at The Gathering of the Tribes. For more information go to Reconciliationinthecity.com

A three day gathering of Native American tribes and others from Southern California and beyond, who will ponder, laugh, pray, meditate on Scripture, talk story, walk the land, and experience the fruits of reconciliation, redemption, and restoration.

Beloved Friends,

Thank you for years of praying, loving, encouraging, embracing and gifting us to touch nations. We believe Bridgmaker.tv will be yet another harvesting tool in the Lord of the Harvest's hands.

We are so amazed at how many opportunities there are to impact nations. Join with us in praying that the Lamb receives the full reward of His sacrifice.

We love you,
Fawn & Joey/Reignbridge
